HOW TO KEEP WELL.

Ten Good Rules For the Preservation of Health.

The following ten rules, says the New York Journal, have been compiled by a committee of eminent physicians as the best to follow for the preservation of health:

1. Don't leave your rooms in the morning with an empty stomach.

2. Never expose yourself to cold air immediately after you have partaken of a warm liquid of any kind.

3. Don't leave your abode in cold weather without warm wraps around your shoulders and breast.

4. Begin respiration in the cold by breathing through the nose. This will give the air a chance to get warm before reaching the lungs.

5. Never place your back near a heat, oven nor against a wall, warm or cold.

6. Don't stand before an open window in a railway carriage, nor take a drive in an open carriage after violent physical exercise.

7. Don't remain motionless in a cold room, and do not stand in an open space, on ice or snow.

8. Talk only when you must, for the old phrase, "Speech is silver, silence is gold," holds good even in hygiene.

9. Don't put off your regular bath. When the skin is not kept fresh and soft, the cold draws the pores together and you are rendered susceptible to pulmonary troubles of all kinds.

10. Don't retire with cold or wet feet. Nothing prevents sleep with so much certainty as the neglect of your pedal extremities.

How to Clean Cut Glass.

Cut glass should have the greatest possible care in handling. A wooden tub should be used for washing, and the water in which it is cleared should never be too warm for the hands. The deeper the cutting the more liable it is to be broken. Cut glass should never be left upon stone or marble, and in rinsing the water should be of nearly the same temperature as that used for the washing. It should always be drained on a soft towel or cloth. Decanters and water bottles often get discolored, but a soft cloth guided by a wire will generally remove the sediment. When this is obstinate, bits of paper with shot and strong soap will do the work. Bows are sometimes used instead of shot. Glass that is ornamented with gold should be washed with castile or a good white soap—that is, a soda—and should be wiped as dry as possible. All the fine glass should be kept in a closed cabinet and handled very little. A damp place is not advisable for glass, especially that with gold decorations.

How to Make Orange Snow.

Take the strained juice of three large sweet oranges and the grated peel of one lemon. Soak a package of gelatin in a cup of cold water and soak until gelatin is tender; add the fruit juice and a cup of granulated sugar and pour over these four cups of boiling water. Stand over hot water and stir until clear. Strain through thin muslin, and when quite cold whip into it the beaten whites of four eggs until the mixture is a beautiful white sponge. Wet a fancy mold in cold water, then pour in the pudding and set away to stiffen. Turn out and serve with orange jelly cut into blocks and heaped at the base.

How to Clean Brushes.

The backs and handles of ebony brushes should be rubbed over with a very little boiled linseed oil after washing and then rubbed with a soft duster till every vestige of oil is removed. Special care is needed in cleaning brushes on these points, and they very slightly moistened with oil should be used, or it is apt to leave a heavy white mark on the wood which is extremely difficult to remove. In brushing the whitening off after cleaning be careful not to scratch the ebony, for once scratched it is spoiled.

How to Make Rock Mince Pie.

One cupful of rolled bread crumbs or crackers, one cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of water, one cupful of vinegar, half a pound of butter or chopped suet, one teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, one of salt, one cupful of chopped dried fruits, such as raisins, citron, currants and apples. Put all together and pour over the pie and let come to a boil. Bake same as other mince pie.

How to Use Soap.

Under ordinary conditions of theory methods serve, but when the skin is very dirty or we desire to attack blackheads soap should be worked into a paste with the hand and be worked under the surface for some seconds, then, using a little hot water, rub half a pint, the skin surface must be rubbed into a lather, washed in another supply of hot water and finally be rinsed in cold water.

How to Cure a Headache.

The juice of half a lemon in a cup of black coffee, without sugar or milk seldom fails to cure a case of head ache.

How to Soften Hard Water.

An easy way to soften hard water is to let it stand in a porous material for a few days before it is used. The peat will not only prove a good filter to the skin, but will give it a fine taste like that which follows the use of hard water.

OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Guardian's Fire Fighters at Their Post Again

EDITOR GUARDIAN:—The great clock up in the steeple of the court house had struck six, and the hands on the dial pointed to nine minutes past when a fire alarm was turned in from East 10th street. All traffic ceased at the first sound, the electric cars stopped in their tracks, as it were, timid ladies were speechless, while the bolder ones screamed screams which most of the victims who live on East 10th mistook for the familiar wails that emanate nightly from the neighborhood of the Garden Grove Hotel.

The department responded with a will in answer to the call, but they were preceded by the small boy, who was already there and comfortably seated high up on the telephone pole. Hook and ladder No. 3, was preparing to scale the roof of the old 16 to 1 building, now occupied as a Chinese restaurant for the trouble appeared to be inside that building, which was true, but it was not fire that came out as the sturdy firemen burst in the front door, to the surprise of all present, but instead what should come rolling out but the Mascot of Safford with the city marshal all mixed with the animal.

Old "Chappo," the Mascot of Safford, had got on one of his periodicals and most people in that section thought from the way he fought, bit, screamed, trembled and scratched that he had the delirium tremens. At this stage of the game the old Mascot was completely over-powered with ten men on each leg and as many more on each arm, with a few extra, for good measure, on his face with hob-nail shoes. The old giant had to succumb to numbers and was placed on a truck with a capacity of 3 1/2 tons. The procession wound down to the dungeon, where the bad man was chained to the building outside, the space inside being too small to accommodate the mountain of flesh and frame carried by old Chappo, the Mexican giant. The chief ordered the hose turned on him, after thoroughly testing his hands to see that he could not possibly get loose, and it had the desired effect, for at daylight the fire had all gone out in the old man. The marshal turned the great key in the lock which liberated the victim, and he returned to the restaurant where he finished his meal in peace and quiet, that he had started in to accomplish the evening before.

Another awful calamity averted, traffic resumed, business normal, the small boy hopeful, and all are wondering as to when the giant will get on another "whiz" and another false alarm turned in by old Chappo, the giant Mascot of Safford. FIREMAN.

Interesting to Purchasers.

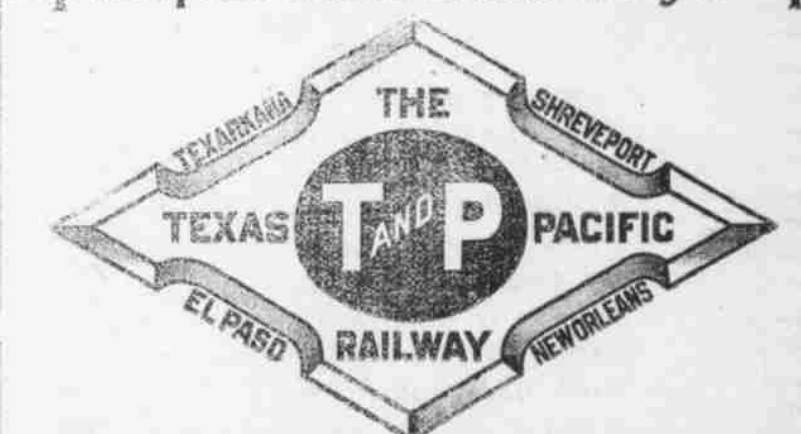

The advertising found each week in the GUARDIAN offering such rare bargains in merchandise, especially dry goods, are watched and read by subscribers as closely as the local news. In many instances people who do not subscribe will go a considerable distance to borrow the paper, "just to see what is going on in town and to see how cheap I can buy goods this week." The persistent advertiser, the one who makes his advertising a part of his business is the man who gets the business. We call our readers special attention to our advertising columns. There is always something there that will prove valuable to you.

Must Settle.

All persons indebted to Dr. J. D. Love must come forward and make settlement of same or suit will be instituted against them. T. T. HUNTER, Safford.
